

I would think the over the air broadcast stations would worry more about satellite radio taking listeners away then worry about traffic and weather...there isn't a station in the Ft Myers Fl area that does the traffic during the day....the only do it during rush hours...weather is only forecast weather but not current conditions....I will never go back to regular radio....they didn't listen to us when we wanted a little different variety on the radio....the put on what they think the people want to hear....I love the XM radio...I listen to the comedy channels and discovery...also Hanks Place...play some old country...not this crap that is on local stations today....thanks for listening...keep the traffic and weather on Satellite.....
